Hello friends. I'm a quiet and crafty designer/developer with lots of various professional experience who has accomplished everything and is simply existing. My skills include graphic design for print & digital, web & native application design & development, product design, branding, 2D and 3D motion graphics & animation, designing for AR & VR, UI/UX prototyping, digital & fine art illustration, and photography.

The core of my passion is in purpose & interaction. My goal with what I create is to balance experience and perception—creating a conscious design that looks nice and feels right. I often find pieces of my personal interests—nature, fashion, architecture, fine art—in the work I do. I'm interested in many different creative mediums, and love designing for the screen and beyond. Brutalism and nature are huge inspirations of mine.
